DISSERTATION

Title: Les couleurs chez Quintus de Smyrne et ses modèles

Abstract: The research looks at the way Quintus of Smyrna, following in the footsteps of Homer and Virgil, uses colors. Like his masters, he favors black and white, light and darkness, indicating thus that for Homer and Virgil this chromatic selection was not haphazard, but the best way to represent a world reduced to essentials: day and night, life and death. In addition, Quintus uses this chromatic opposition to describe his main characters.

Distinction: Summa cum laude

Committee chair/members: Prof. Dr. André Hurst, Prof. Dr. Dan Slușanschi, Prof. Dr. Ștefan Borbély, Ce Dr. André-Louis Rey, Ccs Dr. Antje Kolde.
